

Sorry poem

Being sorry can be very hard especially when we're overwhelmed with pride,
But sometimes our pride must take a fall before we lose out.
And when we have to say sorry we should mean it from our soul,
A meaningless sorry is like a broken promise to the heart.

My heart is weeping tears for the pain that I've caused you,
And it's crying out my apologies to your mind,
Pleading for your forgiveness.
I never meant, in a million years, to be so unkind.

And all that's left for me to do is say sorry in a sincere way,
With an apology that comes from deep inside my soul.

So please take time to think about what I've said, as it comes from the heart.
Take time and try to forgive me, my failure to deliver,
It's all I have left to offer for your friendship and your loyalty.
The thought of you not building this bridge, inside it makes me shiver.
