to last weekend. Write it informally, as if you are writing to your best friend. Think carefully about how to make it informal. You might use nick names, funny words or even include jokes.	you enjoy doing. This time write formally, as if you are writing to your head teacher. Again, think carefully about how you would write this. You'll need to make sure your grammar is correct and use your best vocabulary	First you need to identify the subordinate clauses, then you need to rewrite the sentences using the subordinating conjunctions 'because' and 'although'	sentences. Use a different subordinating conjunction from the list in each sentence. For questions four to eight, you need to write the subordinating conjunction at the start of the sentence	3. Is it written in the present tense? 4. Is it written with a formal tone (like how you would speak to your head teacher)? 5. Does it use facts? This is a good example of a formal report, so you can use it as inspiration for your own writing.
RE - Thanksgiving for God's love. St. Paul wrote to his friends in Thessalonica to encourage and reassure them. He told them that God's love, mercy, forgiveness and compassion are all gifts for them. We thank God for the gifts he gives us just as we thank friends for the gifts they give us. God gives us all the gifts we need to help us to live good lives. Read the attached document based on 1 Thessalonians 5: 12-18 and answer the questions in full sentences.	RE - Thanksgiving for God's love. Reread the attached document based on 1 Thessalonians 5: 12-18. Select all the positive words in the passage e.g. love, respect, encourage etc. and give examples of what people might do to be loving, respectful etc. You could also add a picture to demonstrate living out these actions.	RE - Thanksgiving for God's love. Read the attached story of Maximilian Kolbe. He is an example of the kind of person Paul is speaking about. Write a paragraph describing how he lived out the words of St Paul making links to the scripture.	RE – Choices. This brings us to the end of our topic 'Choices'. Over the next two days you will be completing an end of topic activity. Just as we have done before, this activity does not require full sentences. Write the key points of your answer in the adjacent footprint. Complete the first five footprints.	RE – Choices. Complete your end of topic poster, answering the final five footprints. Make sure you read over all of your work before submitting.
